HUMOR PATHOS ROMANCE

O. HENDY Story a day

A Little Talk About Mobs

Copyright, 1926, by Doubleday, Page & Co.; published by special arrangement with the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

"I see," remarked the tall gentleman in the frock coat and black slouch hat, "that another street car motorman in your city has narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an infuriated mob by hitting a cigar and walking a couple of blocks down the street."

"Do you think they would have lynched him?" asked the New Yorker, in the next seat of the ferry station, who was also waiting for the boat.

"Not until after the election," said the tall man, cutting a corner off his plug of tobacco. "I've been in your city long enough to know something about your mobs. The motorman's mob is about the least dangerous of them all, except the National Guard and the Dressmakers' Convention."

"You see, when little Willie Goldstein is sent by his mother for pins and needles, with a nickel tightly grasped in his chubby fist, he always crosses the street car track safely twenty feet ahead of the car; and then suddenly turns back to ask his mother if the white cotton that she wanted. The motorman yells and throws himself on the brakes like a football player. There is a horrible grinding, and then a ripping sound, and a piercing shriek and Willie is sitting, with part of his trousers torn away by the fender, screaming for his lost nickel."

In ten seconds the car is surrounded by 600 infuriated citizens, crying, "Lynch the motorman!" Lynch the motorman! At the top of their voices. Some of them run to the nearest cigar store to get a rope, but they find the last one has just been cut up and labeled. Hundreds of the excited mob move toward the screaming motorman, whose hand is observed to tremble perceptibly as he transfers a stick of peppermint gum from his pocket to his mouth.

"When the bloodthirsty mob of maddened citizens has closed in on the motorman, some bringing camp stools and sitting quite close to him, and all shouting, 'Lynch him!' Police- man Fogarty draws his club and says, 'G'wan wid ye, and in eight seconds the motorman has been tried and gone about his business, except about a hundred who remain to search for Willie's nickel."

"Hello, Mike," says the motorman in a low voice, "nice day. Shall I sneak off a block or so, or would you like to rescue me?"

"Well, Jerry, if you don't mind," says the policeman, "I'd like to dis- perse the infuriated mob single-handed. I haven't defeated a lynching mob since last Tuesday, and that was a small one of only 500, who wanted to string up a Dago boy for selling wormy pears. It would boost me some down at the station."

"All right, Mike," says the motorman, "anything to oblige. I'll turn pale and tremble."

"And he does so; and Policeman Fogarty draws his club and says, 'G'wan wid ye, and in eight seconds the motorman has been tried and gone about his business, except about a hundred who remain to search for Willie's nickel."

"I never heard of a mob in our city doing violence to a motorman because of an accident," said the New Yorker.

"You are not liable to," said the tall man. "They know the motorman's all right, and that he wouldn't even run over a stray dog if he could help it. And they know that not a man among them would tie the knot to hang even a Phomian cat that had been tried and condemned and sentenced according to law."

Then why do they become infuriated and make threats of lynching?" asked the New Yorker.

"To assure the motorman," answered the tall man, "that he is safe. If they really wanted to do him up they would go into the houses and drop bricks on him from the third-story windows."

"New Yorkers are not cowards," said the tall man, with a little sniff.

"Not one at a time," agreed the tall man promptly. "You've got a fine lot of single-handed scrappers in your town. I'd rather fight three of you than one and I'd go up against all the Gas Trust's victims in a bunch because I'd make two citizens on a dark corner, with my watch chain showing. When you get rounded up in a bunch you lose your nerve. Get you in crowds and you're easy. Ask the 'L' road guards and George E. Cortelyou and the tinplate boys at Coney Island. And divided you stand, united you fall. E pluribus nihil. Whenever one of your mobs surrounds a man and begins to holler, 'Lynch him!' he says to himself, 'Oh dear, I suppose I must look pale to please the boys, but I'll fight 'em all to the death. I'll see 'em premium lapse tomorrow. This is a sure tip for me to play Methusalem straight across the board in the next handi-cup.'"

"I can imagine the tortured feeling of a prisoner in the hands of New York policemen when an infuriated mob demands that he be turned over to them for lynching. For God's sake, officers, once the distracted wretch has a heart of stone that he will not let them wrest me from me."

"Sorry, Jim," says one of the policemen, but it won't do. There's three of us—me and Darrell and the plain-clothes man; and there's only seven thousand of the mob. Here'd we explain it at the office, you took ye? Just chase the infuriated aggregation around the corner, Darrell, and we'll be movin' along to the station."

"Some of our gatherings of excited citizens have not been so harmless," said the New Yorker, with a faint note of civic pride.

"I'll admit that," said the tall man. "A cousin of mine who was on a visit here once had an arm broken and lost an ear in one of them."

"That must have been during the Cooper Union riots," remarked the New Yorker.

"Not the Cooper Union," explained the tall man—"but it was a union riot at the Vanastor wedding."

"You seem to be in favor of lynching law," said the New Yorker, severely.

"No, sir. I am not. No intelligent man is. But, sir, there are cases when the people rise in their just majesty and take a righteous vengeance for crimes that the law is slow in punishing. I am an advocate of law and order, but I will say to you that less than six months ago I myself assisted at the lynching of one of that race that is creating a wide chasm between your section of the country and mine, sir."

"It is a deplorable condition," said the New Yorker, "that exists in the South, but—"

"I am from Indiana, sir," said the tall man, taking another chew. "and I don't think you will condemn me when I tell you that the colored man in question had stolen $20 in cash, sir, from my own brother."

WOMAN'S TRIAL POSTPONED.

The trial of Mrs. Emma Freitas, charged with the murder of her husband, Tony Freitas, during a quarrel on a street of East Oakland on April 10, has been postponed until July 15 by Judge James G. Quinn.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

FURTHER REVELATIONS OF A WIFE. BY IDELE GARRISON

"Thank you, Katie," I said gratefully, for I was indeed thankful to my faithful little maid for warning me of my mother-in-law's displeasure. My nerves were too raw from the strain of the day's events to enable me to withstand any unexpected irritation with equanimity.

"Oh, don't all right!" Katie returned grandiloquently. "You look out she no eat you oop," she murmured with a little chuckle as I passed her on my way to my mother-in-law's room, and the volatile humor warning cheered my spirits out of all proportion to its value as I mounted the stairs.

"Is that you, Margaret?" my mother-in-law demanded superciliously as I neared her door, which was partly ajar.

"Yes, mother," I answered dutifully, pushing the door farther open, but remaining strategically in the doorway. "Did you want me?"

"You know very well I want you," she returned tartly. "Haven't I seen that ape of a girl hanging around the windows all the afternoon when she ought to have been at her work, waiting her chance to tell you that I had ruffled her delicate feelings?"

I can tell you I'm not going to put up with that chimpanzee's impertinence another day."

I had heard this declaration many times before, knew that Mother Graham in reality would no more discharge Katie than I myself would. I would have paid no attention to her threat except that it had been preceded by a statement which my mother-in-law evidently believed and which it behooved me to disprove.

"You are mistaken about one thing, mother," I said firmly. "Katie did not say anything at all about your hurting her feelings."

MADGE TEMPORIZES. "She'd better not if she knows what's good for her," she retorted, suddenly abandoning that line of attack and opening another one. "But I didn't call you up here to waste time talking about an idiot like Katie. I want to get at the bottom of something else. What has made Richard fly off at the tangent he has?"

I waited a full half-minute before answering her. I wished to be sure that my nerves were under steady control for the controversy I saw in front of me, a controversy made more difficult for me by the fact that I was completely in the dark as to what Dicky had done.

"I am not aware that Richard has flown off at any tangent," I said quietly. "I left so early this morning that we had no chance for any conversation."

I didn't think it necessary to add that Dicky had passed me on the stairs without speaking, that earlier in the morning before he had said that he would not speak to me again until I explained my emotion over the newspaper. But my mother-in-law evidently took no stock in what I did say.

"Tommyrot!" she exclaimed. "You can't pull any wool over my eyes like that. You've had some sort of row, and it's over that head-headed teacher who came here last night. Good heavens, Margaret, I know you have some mighty silly ideas in your head, but I never thought you'd be idiot enough to get jealous of that old maid and raise such a row as to drive your husband out of his own house."

I think my jaw must have dropped in sheer amazement at her words, for before I could frame an indignant protest against her ridiculous theory she had advanced to the attack again.

"Don't stand there with your mouth open like a dummy, as if you didn't know what I was talking about!" she commanded acidly.

DICKY'S MESSAGE. I clicked my teeth together with a little snap, resolved to keep silent until I could untwine this amazing tangle in which my mother-in-law's thoughts seemed to be meshed. Was this only her own theory, or had Dicky given her reason for her absence in a childish attempt to mask the real reason for our disagreement?

"Richard just the same as admitted it when I taxed him with this morning at the time he sprang his staying in town for a month idea on me," she went on. "Of course, he pretended there was nothing the matter and left a note for you as if you were friendly. But you can't fool me. Here's the note. Oh, of course you can rush off with it if you want to, but I should think you'd have better breeding."

With an icy "Pardon me," I stopped my involuntary movement away from the door, tore open the envelope, looked at its inclosure. There was nothing but a blank sheet of paper in my hands!

For a moment as I gazed upon the blank sheet of paper which Dicky had seen fit to enclose in the envelope he had given his father for me I "saw red" in primitive feminine fashion, and could have shrieked my anger and humiliation at the trick my husband had played upon me.

Then as I remembered that the keen eyes of my mother-in-law were fixedly watching me, I controlled my wrath with an effort of will power that cost me more than I realized, and laughed lightly as I crumpled the paper in my hand.

"Poor Dicky!" I said carelessly. "I wonder if nothing will ever cure him of being absent-minded. I suppose he is carrying the note to me around in his pocket under the impression that it is a sheet of blank paper, while he has put no writing at all into this envelope."

"Do I look like a fool?" was my mother-in-law's response to this contribution of mine. "You'd better own up the whole thing. Richard simply handed me that note in order to pull the wool over my eyes. But, grimly, 'he never has been able to do it yet, and I'm not quite in my dotage, although you and he probably think that I am. No, you've had a disgraceful row, and I don't wonder Richard tried to get out of it by pretending he had such a rush of orders on that he couldn't get home to sleep for a month. Said a lot of them had come in yesterday, and that he had told you about them."

I bless my stars for my mother-in-law's garrulity. She had given me my cue. If Dicky had betrayed no inkling of our disagreement I assuredly should not be the one to "spill the beans." In spite of my anger at him I could not help a twitching of my lips as I remembered how often the crude phrase was upon his lips.

"He did speak of the orders," I affirmed unwinkingly, saving my conscience with the remembrance that upon our motor ride home he had said that his work was picking up most encouragingly. "And you are utterly mistaken, mother, in your theory that Dicky and I have had any disagreement over Alice Holcombe."

"Well, if it wasn't she it was something else," she asserted stubbornly. "I know the earmarks of a row when I see them, but, of course, if you make up your mind not to say anything, why, I suppose you'll be as mulish as you generally are. Now, never mind standing on one foot in your hurry to get away. I want to hear all about what happened today. I feel it in my bones that something mighty unpleasant is going to develop from that woman's death."

"Your premonition is justified, mother," I said stiffly. "Mr. Stonebridge was arrested this afternoon on suspicion of having killed my wife."

Dicky more than once has marked irreverently that "they dear ought to have been a sob sister on a yellow journal, she had such an eye for people waltering in their gore," and the ludicrous phrasing came back to me as I saw the querulous lines fade out of her face, leaving it purposeful, animated. I saw with a little thrill of relief that she had forgotten all about the affair, peaceful or quarrelsome, of Dicky and me, resolved to gratify her appetite for thrills to the utmost of her ability.

BOOMS COME AND FLIT; DARK HORSE TALK IS GROWING

South Dakota Will Go To McAdoo on Fourth

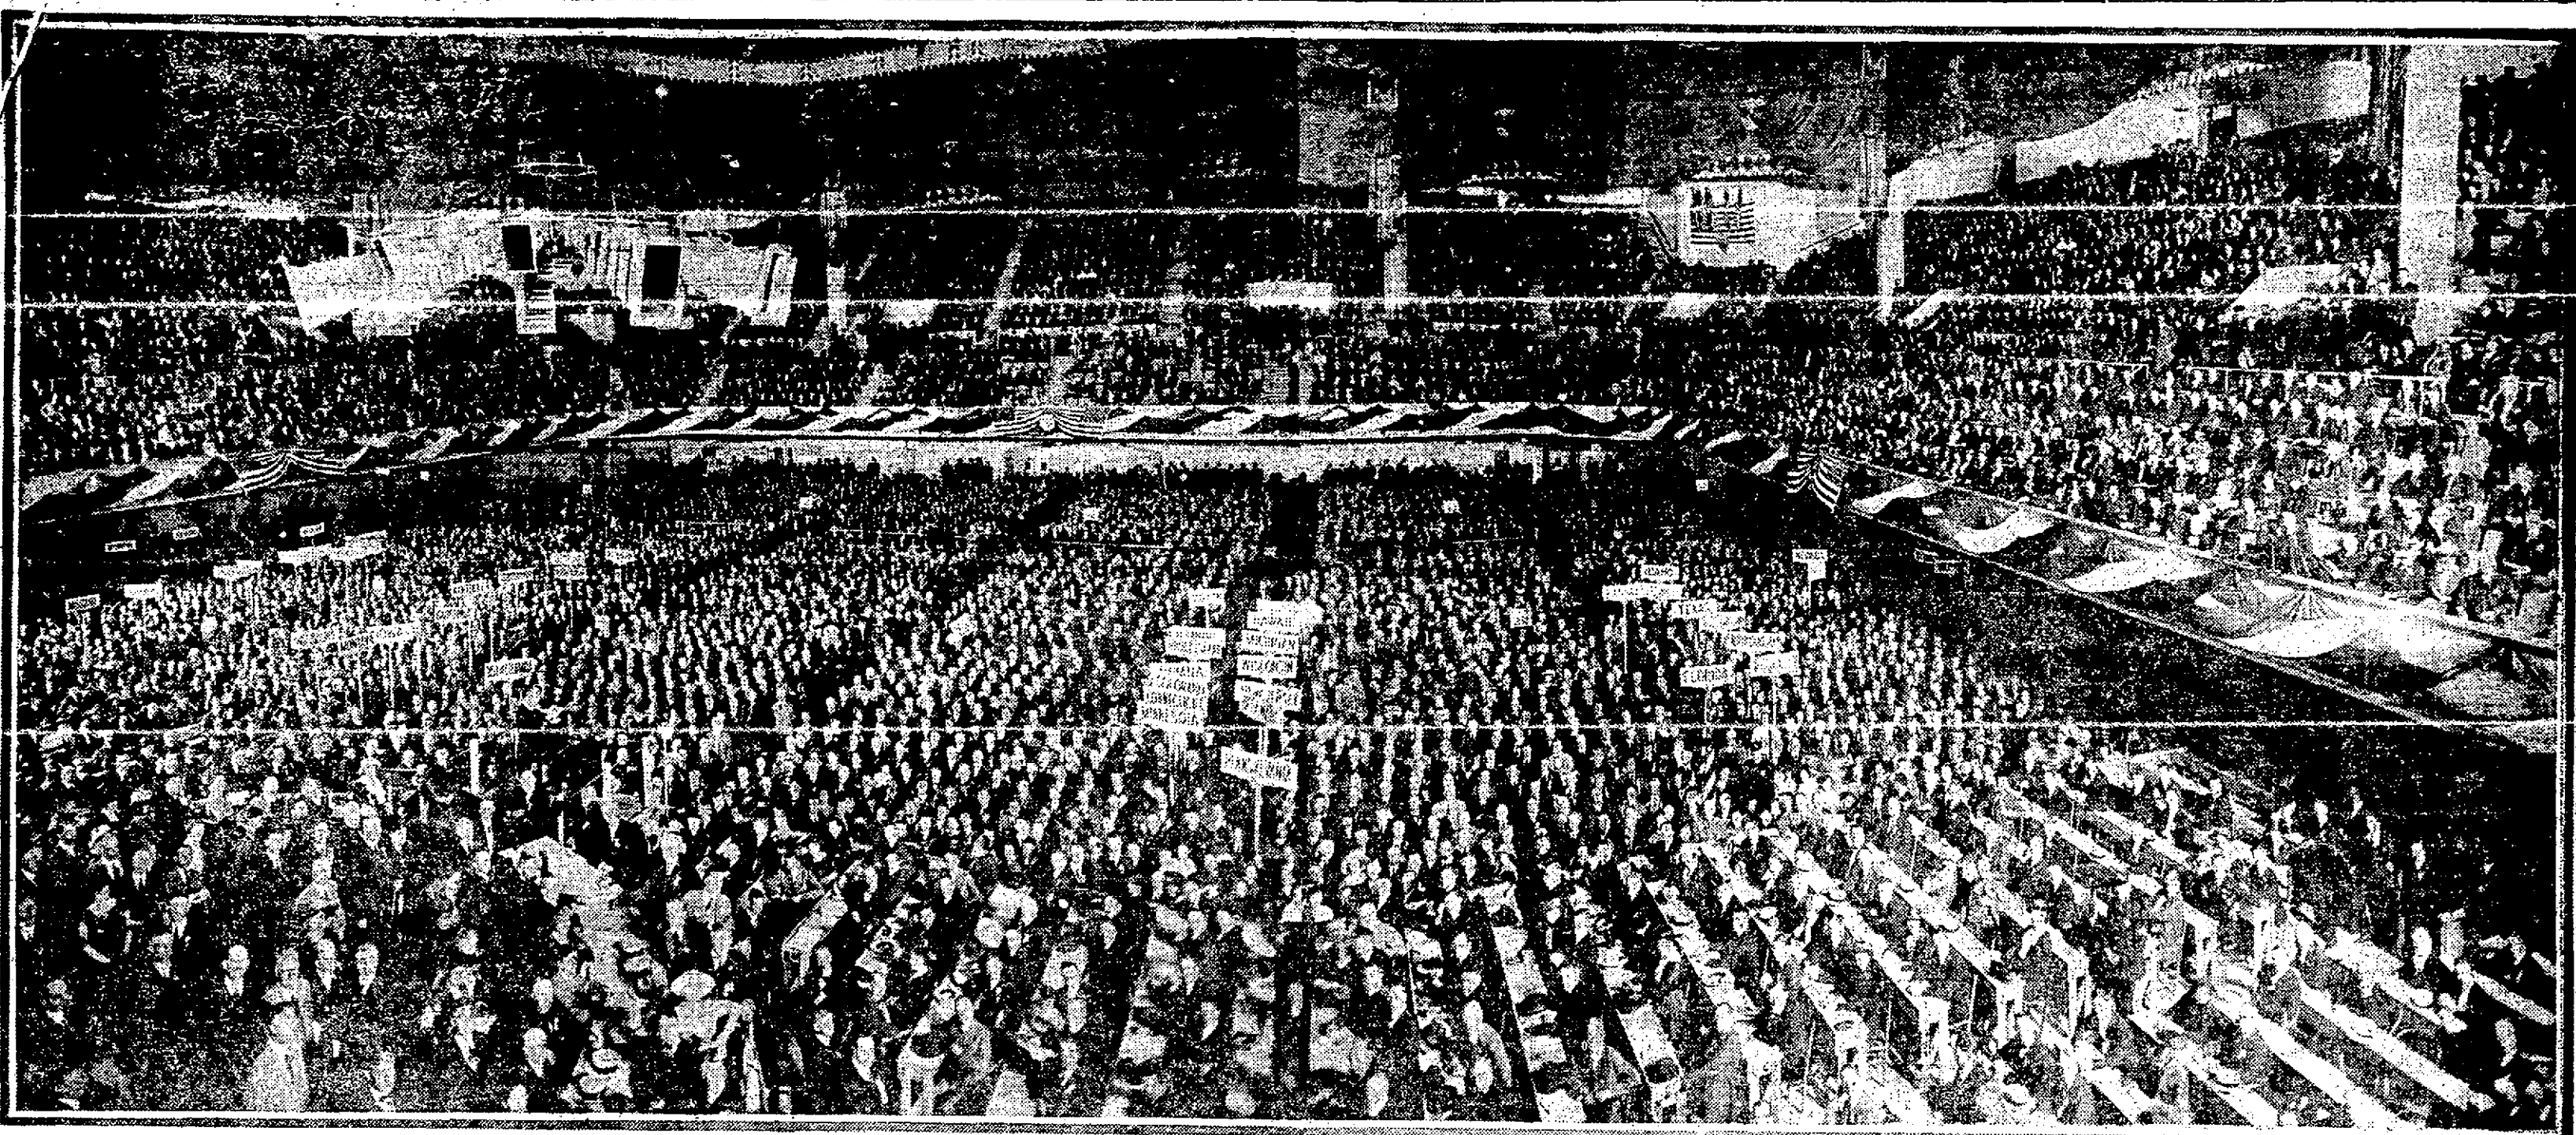

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—South Dakota's ten votes will go to McAdoo after the third ballot.

Following a caucus of the delegation it was announced that the delegation which has been instructed for Gerard will swing its strength to the former head of the treasury.

NOMINATING OF CANDIDATES TO BEGIN TOMMORROW

Here is a general view of the great Democratic National Convention as it proceeds about its labors in the Exposition Auditorium in San Francisco. The photograph is taken from above the stage of the great auditorium, showing the speaker's stand and secretary's desks in the foreground, the press correspondents next to them and the State delegations beyond. Some few spectators and guests are seated at the rear of the lower floor, but the greater number of them found their reservations in the spacious gallery.—Copyright, 1920, by Morton and R. J. ## BALLOTING HELD UNTIL PLATFORM IS DISPOSED OF

By DAVID M. CHURCH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—After a prolonged and bitter fight to determine whether the platform or the nomination of a candidate was the most important business of the Democratic national convention, the rules committee today early reached a compromise. The committee voted to recommend to the convention that it proceed with nominating speeches at 1 p. m. on Wednesday afternoon, but that balloting should not begin until after a platform has been adopted by the convention.

Congressman James F. Byrnes of South Carolina led a strong fight to have the convention proceed with nominations and complete its platform after the candidate had been selected. "Let's name the man and let him help frame the platform," declared Byrnes.

OKLAHOMA MAN LEADS OPPOSITION.
A bitter opposition to such a plan was carried on under the leadership of Lee Cruce of Oklahoma.

"The Democratic convention yielded to its candidate once, when it made its platform conform to the wishes of Alton B. Parker, and the Democratic party lost the respect of the people when it did so," Cruce declared. "I insist that we shall first frame our platform; and if we nominate a man who can't stand on that platform, then I shall have to give up my allegiance to my party."

The debate was and was waged heatedly until former Congressman John Fitzgerald of New York finally offered the compromise plan, which was adopted.

The order of business for the convention as recommended by the rules committee was as follows:

1. Report of credentials committee.
2. Report of committee on permanent organization.
3. Report of rules committee.
4. Nominating speeches to begin at 1 p. m. Wednesday.
5. Adoption of report of resolutions committee.
6. Balloting for nominees for president.
7. Balloting for vice-president.
8. Presentation of resolutions.

The row in the rules committee broke when Ray G. Farrington of Minnesota and Congressman Byrnes made motions that the procedure of 1912 be followed.

"Cruce objected, declaring that the nomination of a presidential candidate and permitting him to dictate the platform would be 'fatal to the 1920 chances of the Democratic party.'"

"This procedure was first proposed by William Jennings Bryan," interjected Byrnes.

"I admire Bryan, but I am not chained to his wheel and I don't believe that he or any other should dominate the convention," replied Cruce and there was loud applause.

"The Democratic party is bigger than any one man."

"If you have a platform first, then you will have a joint debate between

Women From All Corners of U. S. Domain Join in Common Cause at Convention Forum

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—A woman who had three seats, one of which she had reserved for herself yesterday—which might have been called a wallop if the ushers had been men instead of young college women—when the holders of visitors' tickets to the national Democratic convention were led to their seats. These same ticket-holders wormed their way through the curious crowds outside the convention hall, clutching their tickets tightly and waving that aloof look of the chosen people who by divine right were to be allowed to watch the candidate-making.

But when they were led to their seats by the girl ushers quite a different look came into their disappointed faces. "But I don't like this seat. I can only see the back of Mr. Kremer's head and I have read in the paper that he is so handsome." "I don't want to sit way up here under the gallery; my husband's cousin is one of the delegates from Mississippi, and that's such a Democratic state he ought to sit right behind the delegates," said that he would like to be escorted to the speaker's platform.

The ushers looked askance and said she would like to see his ticket. "That's all right," said the girl. "The ushers say that as she progressed along the section several persons shook hands with her. She said to him, 'I know what state I have the honor to escort.' 'California,' said the man, 'I am Governor Stephens.'"

"All I can say," snapped the young woman, embarrassed to the point of tears and trying to cover her embarrassment with a show of bravado before the other girls, "is that he'd better come to San Francisco and meet me at the hotel. I'd know Governor Johnson and place, because he was always every place."

And then came along a man who had no ticket—how he ever got to the watchdogs at the doors the girls say that they do not know. He had no ticket, but he insisted that he was the governor of Virginia and would do the favor to find him a seat at once.

The little girl was nonplussed, for every seat is ticketed and there are none to spare, but when she was asked to turn the ticketless one over to a big policeman along came a platform and the candidate," said Congressman Byrnes.

"Any candidate that won't stand by a platform adopted by the convention doesn't deserve the nomination," Cruce shouted.

Robert C. Murchie offered a proposition that the convention proceed with nominations at 1 p. m. Wednesday, irrespective of whether the platform was complete.

This was voted down 25 to 15. Congressman Fitzgerald then offered his compromise which was really a victory for those insisting upon a platform before the candidate is named. Fitzgerald's proposal was adopted with only two dissenting votes.

Under the rules adopted the convention will operate under the rules of the sixty-fifth Congress, debate will be limited to 30 minutes per delegate except by unanimous consent, and nominating speeches will be limited to five minutes.

ALL ARE STRONG, BOUND TO WIN, THEY DECLARE

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Here are the estimates today of the various candidates for the Democratic nomination of their own chances: Governor Edward I. Edwards:

Robert S. Hudspeeth, campaign manager, speaking: "Edwards is growing stronger every hour. Edwards' slogan will favor modification of the Volstead act. They will favor a League of Nations with such restrictions as would not destroy its vitality. They will also favor self-government for Ireland."

Ambassador John W. Davis: "I have no organization and I am depending on money, but I go before the convention on my strength. I have no prediction to make and seek the nomination on my own merit only."

Stephen G. Jackson, campaign manager, speaking: "Davis' chances are good. He seems to be favored in the west and southwest. His platform policy is a progressive one."

Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall: "I am not seeking votes for president."

A. Mitchell Palmer: "From Palmer headquarters: 'Palmer will win on strength not looked for by his opponents.'"

WILSON DOUBLE STIRS THRONGS AT CONVENTION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—"Look, there's President Wilson!" This exclamation rippled through the convention crowds here today, to an accompaniment of gasps, cheers, arm clutched, excited finger pointings and general excitement.

A smiling top-hatted individual in frock coat and gray trousers was passing through the throngs, bowing right and left. It certainly looked like the President. But it was R. C. Faulkner, famous as a "dead ringer" for President Wilson, especially when he puts on the high hat and glasses and flashes a smile.

Faulkner had a lot of fun today with the Democratic legions but at last he had to resort to a closed car to keep from creating too much excitement.

From the convention hall, foreboding clouds of gloom were being blown toward the city by the wind of the Center when they were Democrats, and the entire Center waited to hear their message.

Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, political chairman of the National Women's party, who has fought and bled and almost died for the adoption and the ratification of the federal franchise amendment, stated last night that she was in receipt of a telegram from Miss Alice Paul, leader in Washington, which said that since the decision of Governor Roberts of Tennessee to call a special session of the legislature on August 9 for ratification of the amendment to be much activity among Republican leaders in Washington. Mrs. Baker so firmly believes that whatever party grants suffrage will have a concurrent election that she says she is positive that Vermont or some other Republican state will act at once.

FIGHT MADE TO OUST WOMAN BY N.Y. DELEGATES

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—A sensation occurred before the rules committee of the Democratic National convention today when former Congressman John Fitzgerald of New York sought to take the place of Harriet May Mills on that committee. Miss Mills was named by the New York delegation as a member of the rules committee.

"Pretty raw," commented Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Miss Mills, Fitzgerald and George J. Lunn then held a heated conference in an effort to break the unit rule. It was reported that if the New York delegation succeeds in breaking their unit rule a great many members will cast their ballots for McAdoo.

Roosevelt appeared before the committee in an effort to break the unit rule. It was reported that if the New York delegation succeeds in breaking their unit rule a great many members will cast their ballots for McAdoo.

DEFICITS SHOWN BY DEPARTMENTS

Showing deficits in two municipal enterprises, the harbor department and the Municipal Auditorium, a report was filed with the city council today by the accounting firm of Higgins & Sells of San Francisco at the audit of the books, accounts and records of the various departments for the six months ending December 31, 1919.

The harbor department, according to the report, ran behind to the extent of $12,505.32, the total revenues from the department for the six months amounting to $71,797.50, while the expenses totaled $84,302.82. Only $455.23 was taken in at the Auditorium, while the expense of operating amounted to $14,005.49, leaving a deficit of $9442.26.

The resume of the city's financial condition for the calendar half-year period shows $21,740,355.07 in permanent properties and equipment and a total bonded indebtedness of $7,382,546. The balance on hand on December 31, 1919, was $1,762,210.02.

During the six months the municipal revenue for the first half of 1920, while the expenses totaled $1,492,239.12, leaving an excess of $2,558,489.18.

OLD TOWN CRIER QUILTS JOB AND VACANCY EXISTS

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 29.—Provincetown's town crier, said to be the last of the profession in America, has hung up his bell and announced that he has cried his last message. For twenty-two years Walter Smith has plodded the two miles of the town's only street, announcing the time and place of events of interest, from the opening of the election of a president. Now, in his seventieth year, he says he is through, and there is no one in sight to succeed him.

The old crier's last cry was for the reopening of the Church of the Pilgrimage founded in 1714 and which had been closed for a year.

Convention, From Gallery, Like Looking Into Lake---Bald Heads Are Pebbles, This Viewer Says

By A. B. S.

AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—A tall man in a severe coat and with an audaciously flamboyant handkerchief hanging from his cigar pocket just rose to his feet in the Nevada section. He takes the handkerchief out, shakes it by a corner and sits down. Ten thousand persons see him do it and he is satisfied. Maybe he is a candidate, or perhaps—and this is an interesting possibility—he has wit-waxed a signal. They do say there is a lot of "silk" work going on and a man never can tell.

Way over there in Iowa, a fat little man, with a bald head, "throws it back until the crease in his neck fits snugly over his chair. Then the head shoots forward like a punching bag and he lets out a sneeze that rattles the windows. No one man is going to hold undivided attention at this convention and the room is already receiving congratulations on the test he gave the acoustics.

SOMEbody TALKING
Somebody is making a speech. Why do they call a crowd like this a sea of faces? Pebble studied, it looks more like the rising sides and bottom of a lake. Down there in the depths are the delegates, stones of varied colors. There are green ones with feathers, round black urban-like ones, and shiny-white and well-washed pebbles of the bald variety.

The speech is still going on. A poll of the Virginia delegation gives the gaudies a majority of two. The man who glances uneasily from right to left is chewing tobacco. "Wonderful thing a convention of a great political party, no end of things to view."

Right over there and within ten feet of the man who is delivering the speech, a big fly, or maybe a bee, is buzzing about, and doing a falling leaf just as if the air wasn't filled with the concentrated thought waves of a great audience. He is right over the head of the speaker and doing a bit of buzzing himself.

BLAZING MUSTACHES
The talk seems to be about President Wilson. There is a story to the effect that it is to be about a keynote or something.

If the signs were not up one could tell the states of the delegations by the degrees in which the sun has bleached their mustaches. Somebody near me has just sent out for a box of cough drops for the man in Tennessee who is barking out a Morse code on his bronchial tubes.

It is a harmonious crowd all right, not a chip showing on a shoulder and not a fight going on anywhere. Down there the wets and dries, the leaguers and the anti-leaguers, Tammany and the anti-Tammany brothers, the McAdoo faithful and the Palmer-Cox brownies set with all of the air of the man in the corner of the square ring who waits placidly while the "gent" in the sweater flaps a towel and who will spring to action when the gong sounds.

LIKE A PHONOGRAPH
And there is Bryan, solid, built like a phonograph, all wound and the record set; Norman Mack, inscrutable and urbane; massive Bourke Cochran; Tom Fugart, not and pushed as a new rowdy table. And the Apollo who is smiling so sweetly on the stand is Bruce Kremer, the champion sniffer of the crowd.

The keynote is approaching. There is a neck little man in the Missouri section and beside him is a big woman who is holding his hat. Who says that this is an untheatrical convention?

Homar S. Cummings has just called President Wilson a keynote and there is a great deal of applause.

Let's see, where did I put my hat?

McADOO TO GET HONOR ON SIXTH, DECLARES LOVE

By WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, will be formally placed in nomination, it was definitely decided today at an early morning conference of McAdoo supporters.

Burrill Jenkins, of Kansas City, Mo., will deliver the nominating speech as at first planned. In the roll call of the states Missouri, twenty-third, but no effort will be made to have another state cede the floor to Missouri in order to get McAdoo's nomination in ahead of others. Missouri, it was said, would await her turn.

There had been some doubt, even among the friends of the former secretary, whether his name would be formally placed before the convention. The action of today's conference, it was said, was decisive.

LOVE SAYS SIXTH BALLOT FOR MAN
Wm. Gibbs McAdoo will be nominated not later than the sixth ballot, asserted national Democratic Committee Chairman Thomas E. Low of Dallas, Texas, today just before the second session of the great caucus got under way.

The forecast came as a sequel to a series of conferences informal, called for the purpose of ascertaining the strength of the McAdoo movement.

Taking part in these conferences were Samuel R. Amidon, national Democratic Committee member from Kansas; Dr. Burrill Jenkins, of Kansas City; Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Joseph Shouse, National Committee member from Texas; and Senator Charles Glass of Virginia, and a considerable number of other Democratic chieftains from different sections of the country.

A former secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, it was made known, said his last word so far as the nomination is concerned.

"The cables are cut between the convention and McAdoo," it was announced. "Aren't you afraid that at the last minute McAdoo will issue a flat statement saying he would refuse the nomination even if offered?" Committee member Love was asked.

"No," the Texan replied with a smile. "McAdoo stands by his Millardville letter. He would not refuse to serve if nominated. That's positive."

McAdoo, it was said, no longer responds to letters, telegrams or telephone calls. His friends here say they think he is in New York but wherever he is he cannot be reached by wire or any other else.

Flugger, secretary of the Treasury, said that on the first ballot, then 200 more after the favorite son and complimentary votes have been cast. Six hundred votes for their man were predicted for the fifth or sixth ballot, and the necessary two-thirds—725 out of a total of 1092—on the next and final.

PALMER MEN HAVE DIFFERENT OPINION
The faction behind Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, however, insist the nomination of McAdoo is impossible.

It will be Palmer or a deadlocked convention with ultimately a dark horse winner, one of Palmer's managers declared.

Governor James M. Cox's boom today seemed about stationary, marked variation being observable yesterday. The Palmer crowd reported a certain weakening in the ranks of Cox's army, basing up the assumption with the assumption that some of his cohorts were taking "second choice" for the first time since their arrival in San Francisco.

The will of William H. Heywood of Berkeley, a cousin of Councilman Charles D. Heywood of that city, has been filed with County Clerk George Gross for probate. Under its terms a life interest in the property, with the exception of $5000 bequeathed to a son, Leslie Heywood, is left to the widow of the decedent, Mrs. Lulu A. Heywood. At her death the property is to go to a daughter, Dalene S. ### Interchurch Drive Will Be Abandoned

NEW YORK, June 29.—The billion dollar campaign of the Interchurch World Movement has been abandoned, it was announced, following a meeting of the executive committee. The entire project may end July 5. It was said, when the general committee will meet to consider what steps, if any, will be taken to carry on the other aspects of the campaign. Several reasons were back of the decision, the committee said, the principal one being the present prevalence of "drives of various kinds" which are being carried on throughout the country. The withdrawal of the Baptist Church, North, and the Presbyterian Church, North, also were said to be important factors in the decision to give up the campaign.

Warning on Fires Is Issued by Chief

The usual series of Fourth of July fires promise to tax the Oakland fire department to its fullest capacity this year, owing to the dry season, and this morning Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead reiterated his warning to householders concerning dry grass near houses. The record number of twenty-four fires yesterday caused the department the hardest day's work in its history, and it was only by the most strenuous effort that there was no serious loss. Most of the fires, according to Chief Whitehead, were caused by the use of fireworks. Over a dozen fires had occurred at 12 o'clock today.

Can YOU
overlook it?

If you could really see the inside of the clothing situation you would not think of paying more than $40 for a suit of clothes!

Moreover, if you knew the facts you'd insist on a mighty fine suit for that price! The best way we know of driving this home is to look down this page at our prices and then look in this store at our clothes.

Do you remember that in all our years of business---we have not once raised our prices? Think of that! Through thick and thin, by taking an average profit of only 56c per garment, we've helped to lever prices down!

That means more to you today than ever! "Sales and special prices" (which are not our way of doing business) merely EMPHASIZE the bigger, better, all-wool values waiting for you here---$25, $30, $35. 3 minutes in this store will satisfy you that your dollars buy a lot more clothing value and satisfaction invested in Foreman & Clark garments!

TRADE UPSTAIRS & SAVE $10

That's Our Slogan, but $15 or $20 Is Usually Our Saving!

It isn't just the upstairs feature of our business that makes so big a difference in our prices and our values. Read the other four reasons for better clothes at lower costs.

Money-saving doesn't come out of thin air. You know that. There's a common-sense business principle back of every dollar that is saved for you in making and selling F. & C. clothes.

Beginning with buying the woollens and ending with our selling methods and plain upstairs stores, we set aside dollars for you that usually go into the middleman's pocket, the rent collector, and the traveling salesman's.

Read the five reasons for F. & C. savings---see how logical these

BIGGER VALUES ARE---

1. A coast-to-coast chain of UPSTAIRS stores.
2. We save $497,678.00 yearly in rent.
3. We have our own big wholesale tailor shops.
4. Plain stores--no mahogany fixtures.
5. Cash business--no credit losses.

Every dollar you invest in F. & C. clothes means a bigger dollar's worth of style, quality and clothing satisfaction.

Never before have men turned to F. & C. guaranteed clothes at guaranteed savings as they are turning now---thousands daily! They know the one beacon-light of bed-rock clothing value is the name Foreman & Clark.

END OF EIGHT YEARS MISERY

Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Recovered.

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had an organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and limbs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine and tried it with splendid success. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recovered my health and my Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking them to advantage. You can use my name for a testimonial."—Mrs. THOMAS COVETRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

BOARD TELLS OF ORIENTAL SPREAD

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—Predicting the gradual surrender of all irrigated lands in California to the Japanese unless immediate action is taken by the federal government to deal with the "Oriental menace," the State Board of Control's report which was returned to Governor Stephens after minor corrections, warns that eventually the white population will be forced to migrate to other states if unfair competition by the "yellow race" is allowed to continue.

The report points out that of 49,700 acres being irrigated in California, which comprise very largely, the best lands in the state, Orientals occupy 623,752 acres, or approximately 16 per cent.

It is noted also that the amount of land controlled by Japanese in California has increased more than 10 per cent during the last ten years, which indicates the rapidity with which the Japanese might gain control of the state, by continuing their policy of "peaceful penetration" and settlement.

The Board of Control advises the governor that the "Japanese themselves point with pride to their achievement in agricultural pursuits in California," and asserts that "the American farmer should view with alarm this rapid increase in agricultural lands occupied by Orientals."

It is indicative of the strong hold which the Japanese have gained in agricultural pursuits, the following table is given to show the percentage of California crops which are produced by them:

TRUCKMAN SAYS BANK ROBBERS KIDNAPED HIM

YAKIMA, Wash., June 29.—How he was kidnaped by alleged bank robbers, who, he said, have followed him fourteen years to learn the location of a $7000 treasure, said to have been hidden by robbers near the Kansas-Oklahoma line, his motor truck ran into the Yakima river and himself bound and spirited away to a hill retreat to be starved and tortured eight weeks to force the secret he was supposed to hold; finally liberated yesterday near La Grande, Ore., was told today by M. J. Newton, Selah truckman, to explain his disappearance here May 9.

Newton telephoned his wife from La Grande yesterday, arriving here today and told the story to Selah friends and a reporter. Their associates, believing he knew where the bank loot was, traced him here. One of the kidnapers, Newton said, he knew as Frank McDowell.

BURGLAR FACES OTHER CHARGES

PIEDMONT, June 29.—Jewelry found in the room of Harold Thompson, daylight burglar who was arrested Sunday while robbing the home of W. C. Stone, 582 Boulevard way, was identified today by Detective Sergeant Fred Heere, thus connecting the man with two other recent Piedmont burglaries.

Heere says Thompson has been connected through the goods found in his room with the burglary of the home of W. P. Walsh, 115 Dale avenue on May 15, and of J. R. Nesbitt, 153 Arbor drive, on April 11.

There is still some jewelry found in his room which has not been identified by means of which Chief of Police B. F. Becker hopes to connect Thompson with other of the recent daylight burglaries here.

According to Heere, Thompson, who is 22 years old, was arrested in 1914 in Seattle for attempted burglary.

Irish Submit Plank and Ask for Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the American Committee on Irish Independence, has presented the committee's proposed platform, accompanied by a communication to the Resolutions Committee requesting a hearing. The plank says:

"Mindful of the circumstances of the birth of our own nation, we reassert the principle that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. We will support the continuance of our long-established and lawful practice of according recognition without intervention in all cases where the peoples of a nation, as in Ireland, have by free vote of the people, set up a republic and chosen a government to which they yield willing obedience.

"Therefore, we pledge our party to the policy of according to the elected government of the republic of Ireland full, formal and official recognition of the government of the United States, thus vindicating the principle for which our soldiers offered their lives."

Water Held Wasted; City to Use Meters

several years with Hobbs & Parsons, commission merchants. His funeral will be held Wednesday in Oakland. Belt was a grandson of Dr. A. M. Belt, the first surgeon-general of Oregon, appointed by President Buchanan. His father was the first white child born in Salem, Oregon, the state capital.

double the quantity ordinarily consumed in cities where meters are in use. Unless water consumption can be materially reduced a new plant including new water mains of larger size, will soon have to be installed. If the consumption can be reduced 50 or 60 per cent this can be obtained, and material savings in electric current as well as chemicals for filtration and disinfection can be effected. With meters it is believed that all may have sufficient water for ordinary uses at even less cost than the present flat rate.

LOVE IS MALADY, BUSINESS HARM, SAYS PROFESSOR

BERKELEY, June 29.—Beware of love in an "aggravated" form! It is a malady worse than the worst, says Dr. R. E. Angier, professor of psychology at Yale, now lecturing to summer students at the University of California.

Moreover, the lovesick person can't hide the nature of his affliction from the outside world, says Dr. Angier. They're easily detectable, says the professor.

Here is what the visiting scholar has to say about Cupid and his pranks:

"Employers should beware of a lovesick man or woman. They do not make efficient employees, for the reason that their judgment is clouded and their ability to concentrate impaired by the ascendancy of this emotion over all others.

"Love carried to the extreme becomes a malady which renders the unfortunate sufferer almost completely helpless.

"Moreover, love, together with two other rudimentary emotions—fear and anger—give inherited reactions bringing profound changes in the visual and glandular system. Thus a man or woman in love can easily be detected by appearance."

Dr. Hogan Re-elected Vallejo C. of C. Head

STATE CHECK ON GASOLINE ASKED

SAN JOSE, June 29.—A proposal to place the regulation of gasoline and distillate into the hands of the State Railroad Commission as a public utility has been made by the State Federation of American Farmers, according to a statement issued today by J. J. McDonald, state chairman of a special committee named at a meeting of the federation at Stockton. The federation was formerly known as the Farm Owners' and Operators' Association. According to McDonald a bill with this purpose will be introduced at the next meeting of the legislature and it will have the support of senators and assemblymen from at least seven counties, who are now pledged to make a fight for it.

Resolutions adopted by the federation declare that the dearth of gasoline and distillate is threatening to curtail food production and its distribution and that the needs of the people of this state and nation should be served before those of foreign nations.

Berkeley Boys Leave For Summer's Camp

BERKELEY, June 29.—Off for a three-weeks camp at Clear Lake, 125 boys and leaders left Berkeley yesterday morning via Northwestern Pacific to Hopland, thence by stage to Lakeport and steamer to camp site. The camp is directed by Clifford G. Dickson, Berkeley's work secretary, who will be assisted by J. W. McElroy and twelve leaders, who are some of the older boys, now students in the university.

The days will be divided into periods of study, drill, swimming and recreation. A special patriotic service will be held on Sunday, July 4th, when a number of the parents and directors will motor up for the holiday.

SAN JOSE, June 29.—More than 2000 tons of green apricots were purchased at $100 a ton throughout this county within the past few days in a great buying campaign by the California Packing Corporation, according to reports coming in to the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association. The growers' association officers declare that they have been advised by telephone that the same price has been offered by buyers in San Benito and San Mateo counties. There are also reports of buying activities in Alameda county. The belief is expressed that since the largest packing corporation in the state handling green fruits has opened bids that other concerns will follow suit and within a few days the market will be very lively.

PLEASANT ENVIRONMENT.

In some respects, and they are noteworthy, the national Democratic convention which opened yesterday in San Francisco differs from any convention ever held. The preliminaries of the convention proceedings have been much as usual, but the surroundings, the local atmosphere and experiences have been of a nature to produce a different psychology in the delegates and visitors.

The main difference is the hospitality of the convention city. Delegates have been made to feel that they are really welcome and amount to something. There has been a splendid preparation for the visitors. The hotel accommodations are adequate and there is no gouging on the part of restaurants, shops and taxicab companies. There is no evidence, encountered in every other convention city, of a disposition to "rob" the delegates.

Then there is the outspoken, demonstrated hospitality of the people of San Francisco and the Eastbay cities. There has been an overt effort to entertain the delegates and make their visit enjoyable for them. Public and private receptions and outings, sight-seeing tours, complimentary functions, have been arranged. The comfort of the delegates in their hotel homes has not been forgotten and from day to day flowers have been sent to rooms of the women delegates and other tokens of friendly greetings to the men.

In addition to these pleasant attentions the climate has been benignant, especially to those who have experienced the July days of St. Louis, Chicago and other cities of the East. After the day's work of conferences and drafting of speeches and resolutions, there has been enough time remaining to support the inclination for sight-seeing and recreation.

So amiable have been these influences that it is not surprising that the opening had the appearance of a fête. This was a sign of the genius of California—to do things in the pleasantest way. The delegates have taken up the serious part of their business in a happy frame of mind, free of annoyances, conscious of the fact that they are among friends, regardless of the politics of the day.

JAPAN SELMS TO WIN

Announcements by the State Department at Washington, as well as by Mr. Thomas W. Lamont, representing the American group of bankers in the consortium for loaning money to China for the economic development of that country, are calculated to leave the impression that Japan has receded from her demand for China and Mongolia be excluded from the field of operations based on such loan. The Japanese version of the conversations has been reported do not support this understanding. But the following quotation from a statement issued by the Japanese foreign office at Tokyo:

"This special and peculiar position of Japan the other powers concerned have hitherto shown willingness to appreciate. The Japanese government, however, in confirming the Paris agreement, considered it advisable to arrive at a more definite understanding of this point with the governments concerned. That exchange of views with the American, British and French governments led to a full appreciation on the part of the main purpose of the Japanese proposal which had in view the guaranteeing of the security of Japan's national defense and economic existence. The three governments expressly declared to the Japanese government that they not only contemplated no activities inimical to the vital interests of Japan but that they were ready to give a general assurance which would be deemed sufficient to safeguard those interests."

"Seeing that the spirit of their proposal has met with the complete appreciation of the powers interested, the Japanese government has decided finally to confirm the agreement of Paris and the result is the understanding that has been reached between the representatives of the Japanese and American banking group. A similar understanding is expected soon between the Japanese group and the British and French groups."

This is somewhat involved phraseology. But its purpose is unmistakable to the government and the banking group. Japan's "national defense" and "economic interests" mean just one thing: no Chinese industrial projects shall be carried out by foreign loans in Manchuria and Mongolia. Japan alone will be the judge as to whether her interests are menaced.

So there has been no recession by Japan. The American government has accepted the Japanese contention, but has masked its action by indirect and tortuous phrasing.

CRISIS IN ITALY.

According to all the news that comes from Italy, that country is at a very critical stage in its existence. A condition very near to anarchy prevails. There are strikes and uprisings against the government daily. Dissatisfaction is widespread and permeates all classes. The king has not yet ventured to issue orders for the demobilization of the war armies. Legislation is clogged, all but paralyzed. Governmental expenses go on at war rates and unless the government finds means of forcing the payment of the heavy taxes that have been levied on capital and the war profiteers bankruptcy cannot be very far away.

This may seem an extreme summary, but it is the evaluation of conditions announced by the leading and most trustworthy statesmen of Italy. Since the popular elections three months ago, the Italian parliament has all but ceased to function. Premier Nitti, a statesman of unusual ability, made two fruitless attempts to reconstitute the cabinet, and then frankly admitted his failure to go ahead.

It is of curious interest that in this crisis Italy again has turned to Giovanni Giolitti, now in his eightieth year, to steer the ship of state. This is a tribute to octogenarians if nothing else. But the venerable Giolitti commands at this moment more confidence and respect than any other Italian. If his effort to put forward those domestic reforms so urgently needed, and which Nitti tried to inaugurate, should fail, Italy will be very much nearer to complete collapse and to becoming the prey of destroying bolshevism.

The new prime minister, Giolitti, is not popular with the statesmen of the Allied powers, but it is likely they will bury their dislikes in order to maintain the shaky fabric of government in Italy. It will be remembered that Giolitti was premier in 1914 and stood stoutly for a policy of strict Italian neutrality. His country did not join the entente alliance until he was displaced in 1915. If the Allied governments keep this fact uppermost in their present calculations they will consider the restoration of the old statesman to power as a severe blow to their hopes.

It has never been said of Giolitti, however, that he favored neutrality for any other reason than because, according to his view, it would be in the interest of his country. He took the stand in 1914 that Italy was unprepared for war in either an economic or military sense and if she stayed out of the conflict she would at the end of the war be rich and prepared to enforce her views upon her tired and exhausted neighbors. This was a schemingly selfish view and Giolitti was sadly mistaken as to the ability of Italy to keep out of the war, but he always has been credited with absolute honesty of statement and purpose.

Friends of Giolitti point out that he never was pro-German or pro-Austrian and in support of this defense recall the manner in which he outwitted the German kaiser in 1911. In that year Giolitti learned of the agreement between the kaiser and the sultan at Constantinople by which Germany was to take economic and military possession of Tripoli. He defeated the plot by sending a large Italian force of troops and ships to seize and hold Tripoli before the kaiser had time to put his agreement into execution.

It would seem that Italy was come to that serious point where, after the repeated failures of other men and various projects, she has turned to one man to extricate her from grievous difficulties. He is variously referred to as the Old Fox and the Grand Old Man, characterizations familiar to other countries. Like Clemenceau in France during the war, he has been called to lead his country through the dark places.

The world will be much interested in what this old man accomplishes. For if he fails to tranquilize the conflicts of politics and class and to overcome the bolshevik plots to break down government and public order, the rest of the world will be gravely concerned.

Greece, Rumania and Poland have gotten more out of the war, compared to their previous status and contributions, than any other country or people. Greece is fighting the Turks because she must and preparing to fight the Yugoslavs because she desires further advantages. Poland is fighting the Russian bolsheviks because she must and the Czechs and Slovaks because she wants more than the treaty gave her. Rumania seems satisfied and is making great strides toward developing her old and newly acquired resources. France and Belgium got less out of the war than any other nation, compared to their sufferings and contributions. Belgium is progressing nicely and peacefully. France has had to assume the major burdens of guarding her frontier and at the same time to encounter the oppression of her allies, Great Britain and Italy, to retain what was granted her at the peace conference. Thus in nations as among men.

NOTES and COMMENT

Rear-Admiral Becker has been so incautious as to publish something that is likely to start up the Daniels-Sims controversy anew. His contribution to the trouble is anti-Daniels, but both disputants seem to be so eager to squabble that this will afford them the opportunity to go it again. There is no more likelihood of a reasonable surcease of this dispute than there was of the Sampson-Schley controversy that persisted till one of the disputants died.

Already it has been urged from the far West that the Republican presidential candidate come to this coast during the campaign. He would receive a hearty welcome, but considering what happened once, the undertaking should be well thought out if it is decided on.

News from Oklahoma is to the effect that a woman has uprisen there against "outlaw movies," the pardoning of bank robbers, and some other things that are being done, and threatens to organize a rolling-pin army to correct the situation. A rolling-pin army might not be as astonishing now as it once would have been. We have experienced the overall raid.

The San Francisco person who noticed a gang of street-department laborers looting very palpably on their job and telephoned to the Board of Works about it, receiving the admonition to mind his own "damn business," was perhaps only a taxpayer and he is. All that is expected of him is just to satisfy the assessment devised to raise money wherewith to meet the payroll.

The announcement that the decision of the executive committee in the Reed matter "vanquishes" the Missouriian who is contesting for a convention seat must be interesting. Senator Reed is never vanquished. It is a safe prediction that he considers himself now only in the shank of the engagement.

The appointment by the convention of eleven clergy with a total of nine beliefs to invoke blessings on the deliberations may be open to the charge that it is an inadequate provision; but it shows that nothing that may possibly be a pull is overlooked.

Many references are being made by the wits to the lecture that Mr. Bryan delivered at Scottish Rite Hall, the special feature of which was that there was no admission fee. This feature is evidently considered so extraordinary that there does not seem to be much curiosity as to what the lecture was about.

The appearance on the scene of W. J. Burns, ex-cop, would lead to what he is "gophering" just at this time. The renowned sleuth declares that he is not on a professional stage, though Pete McDonough and police court circles may have some ground for perturbation, considering what he did in San Francisco once upon a time.

"Mereditth out of the race." This is news from the angles. It is not only news to us that he is "out of the race," but it infers that at some time or other he has been in it.

The Richmond News notes a human trait: "Many men rush enthusiastically to pay ten bucks a quart to a bootlegger who nearly becomes an anarchist of an ambitious little profiteer stings them to the tune of six bits a pound for bacon."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

A desire to see a train wreck is reported to have led two 12-year-old boys of Fort Bragg to wrap a logging chain around the inside rail of the railroad track, one mile from Fort Bragg, in an endeavor to ditch the eastbound passenger train. The engine and three coaches passed over the obstruction safely. Had the chain been around the outside rail, the train filled with women and children bound for a picnic on Pudding creek, would have been dashed into the creek many feet below. Fresno Republican.

Helen Jerome Eddy, the film star, entertained forty of her friends at a dinner last night at the Hotel Ambassador Santa Barbara. At which an ostrich egg omelet was served. The dinner was outside the hotel, the train filled with women and children bound for a picnic on Pudding creek, would have been dashed into the creek many feet below. Fresno Republican.

The Supreme Court, in deciding that the federal government has a general circulation and therefore is not legally competent to publish legal advertisements, is giving recognition to the principle that the intent of the law must be observed as well as the letter. The same reason which has led the statutes to require certain notices to be published at all is also the reason why they should be published only in newspapers and not in class journals or makeshift sheets printed at stated intervals for no other reason than to publish legal notices. Some folks angle for game fish for the entertainment and amusement they get out of the sport. Others fish for the honor of securing cups, medals and buttons, and some even take pride in being helped to locate the fish. There is a story going the rounds of a certain eastern angler who went tuna fishing early in June. He left the pier at noon, and despite all his efforts, failed to hook a tuna. Then he tried again, as he said, "as a sort of diversion to the poor fishing." So he crossed did he become with the new pastime, that until an ocean swell swept off the fishing net, he didn't realize that the channel was rough. Catalina Island.

THIS YEAR'S FARM CROPS

Official Estimates Indicate Normal Acreage and Even an Increase in Total Production—Crop Prices Increased 5 Per Cent in May.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The serious shortage of farm labor and the unfavorable weather throughout much of the principal crop area has caused some worry regarding the size of this year's crop. A memorial recently presented to President Wilson by the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and the Farmers' Union calls attention to what they describe as "the critical situation existing on the farm and the resulting menace to the nation's food supply." The memorial states that the total acreage of the principal crops is less than in any year since 1914. The production of these crops is less than in any year since 1914. The price of these crops is less than in any year since 1914.

The price of meat animals did decrease 2.4 per cent between April 15 and May 15, compared to an average increase of 0.7 per cent in the same period in the last ten years. But since the Farm Bureau's reference was apparently to field crops, the statement cannot be supported by the official facts.

The total acreage for these six crops amounts to 17,943,000 which is 87.7 per cent of the 1919 acreage, and 104.3 per cent of the 1914 acreage. The principal decrease this year compared with last is in winter wheat. If we consider only the three spring-sown grains—wheat, oats and barley—the average percentage of the 1919 acreage is 93.5. This is not such a serious reduction and indicates that in spite of the labor shortage, the farmers have planted the usual number of acres.

The following table gives the estimated production for this year and last and the relative percentage figures. In addition to the six crops mentioned above, the estimated yields of apples and peaches are included in this table:

Estimated Production	1920	1919	1918	1917	1916	1915	1914
Wheat	1,315,000	1,315,000	1,315,000	1,315,000	1,315,000	1,315,000	1,315,000

Barley	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000

Apples	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000
Peaches	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000	1,120,000
Average	194	194	194	194	194	194	194

The 1920 estimated yield of these eight crops average 5.6 per cent greater than in 1919, and 1.7 per cent greater than the average production for the years 1914-1919. Taking the three spring-sown crops, the estimated production this year is 1,777,000,000 bushels, compared to 1,623,000,000 bushels last year. This is an increase of 9.5 per cent.

Some further evidence along this line is shown by the Department of Agriculture's estimate of the composite condition of all crops expressed in percentage of the ten-year average. This figure on June 1, 1920 was 94.8 per cent, which is only 5.2 per cent below the same figure on June 1, last year.

All of these data indicate that our harvest this year will not be far below normal. No one doubts that there is a serious shortage of farm labor this year and everything possible should be done to relieve this situation, but it is unfortunate that the farmers' organizations are making claims so at variance with the official estimates. No official estimates have been made on the corn

WHAT TO SHOW.

To the Editor of The Tribune: I read with a great deal of interest your editorial, "An Outsider's View." The thought that impressed me was that the cost of handling is high, and if we are going to make comparisons of the harbors of the Pacific coast with other harbors, we must begin would be to compare the one hundred and fifty thousand dollars per year that we expend to improve our harbor with the millions that are being expended to improve the other harbors you mention; then perhaps we will understand why our harbor does not figure with the harbors of the Pacific coast.

MANY POLITICAL PARTIES.

Since the Republican party came into being, sixty-four years ago, fourteen attempts have been made to found other new parties and none of them has elected a president. The closest approach was by the Progressive party in 1912, when Roosevelt received 4,119,507 votes. The next considerable splash was made by the Populist party in 1892, when James B. Weaver polled 1,041,025 votes.

In 1872 a split in the Republican party led to the nomination of Horace Greeley by the "Liberal Republicans" and the Democratic party, but Grant was re-elected by a majority of more than 700,000.

Four years later, in 1876, the Greenback party was organized and ran Peter Cooper for president. It was the predecessor of the Populist movement. It ran Weaver in 1880 and in 1888 and came to life again in 1892 as the People's party, with Weaver its nominee for president.

The prohibition party came into the field in 1876, casting 922 votes for Green Clay Smith of Kentucky. It has had a presidential candidate in every contest since then.

The Socialist party also has been a frequent contender, and at one time and another we have had Socialist labor nominees, Social Democratic candidates, American party candidates, union labor, united labor, gold Democrat and independent candidates. And the result has been the same in every instance—defeat and the election of a Republican or a Democratic president.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

SHIPPER DISCERNS FREIGHT ADVANCE OF 60 PERCENT

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Freight rates must be increased 55 1/2 per cent if the roads' demands for increased freight tariffs and the demands for increased pay are granted and the whole burden placed on the freight traffic, the Interstate Commerce Commission was told by Clifford Thorn of Chicago, representing shippers. Thorn recommended that the wage advances be added without further hearings to the costs upon which the roads could base their request for advanced freight rates; that a 5 per cent increase be made in passenger rates, with the balance of freight tariffs to care for the present case and that any advance occasioned by the wage decision be spread out over the entire earnings of the railroads from all sources.

Application of the entire advance to freight rates, Thorn said, will mean an increase in the East of 60 per cent, in the West 50 per cent and in the South 60 per cent.

"An increase of 1/2 per cent per passenger mile on passenger traffic plus an increase of 20 1/2 per cent on all other traffic," Thorn continued, "would produce sufficient revenues to take care of the present needs of the carriers, added to an increased wage of one-half billion dollars. If the wage advance is one billion dollars and the additional amount is placed on traffic other than passenger traffic, the percentage would be 29 per cent."

Stage Wreck Victim's Funeral Is Tomorrow

The funeral of B. S. Belt, Stockton business man, who was killed Saturday in an auto stage wreck near Livermore, will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the Great Miller undertaking parlors in Oakland. Mrs. Belt, the widow, took charge of the body immediately after the accident.

"A Professional Wage"

W. F. Drew has resigned his post at Technical High School. He says he can make more money in business for himself than he can teaching in Oakland. The most he could get as a high school teacher, and that only after serving SEVEN YEARS, was $2160. That's why so many of Oakland's teachers are leaving the schools.

Protest Greets U. C. Co-ed's Note on Dance Protection

BERKELEY, June 29.—If "Miss Anxious," co-ed summer session student at the University of California, was a "silly little violet" in her own home town she has awakened to find herself famous in Berkeley.

A storm of protest, both humorous and indignant, has followed the letter of "Miss Anxious," published last week in the summer session daily, in which she asks that some assurance be given the summer co-eds that they are meeting the "right kind of men" at the dances arranged on the campus during the vacation school. She asked that the antecedents, age, aspirations and general character of the dancing partner be told to the girl to whom he is introduced and she indignantly declared that matrimony was not the object.

LETTER CONDEMNED

"Poor little girl, so far away from home and in the midst of the perils she speaks about," answers a cruel "man student" in this morning's issue of the college paper. "She remarks that she did not come to find a husband, yet she wants the information that goes with one. Also she does not want to meet any aimless college boys, although no doubt there will be a few aimless girls here, too. Her statement is a reflection upon the spirit of this university and it does not reflect the spirit of the majority of the young women."

How is the mere male of the species to be protected from unscrupulous females, asks an "aimless college boy," in replying to "Miss Anxious."

"Now, Mr. Editor, cannot the introducer give the boy a little information about the lady concerned?" asks the college writer. "For instance, the introducer might tell the boy what course the woman is pursuing, when she is graduated and how old she is. I really do not think I am asking too much. I think it is only fair to us boys that there be some guarantee that we are meeting the right kind of women."

WRITERS ARE HUMOROUS

"Please do not misunderstand me," imitates the "aimless college boy," in following the original letter of "Miss Anxious," "for I am not going to the summer session to find a wife."

"If 'Miss Anxious' is particular," "H. C. P.," who sends another wail of protest to the summer session editor, would let down all the bars. For, complains the writer, there is not enough informality. She has no objections to dancing with men she doesn't know, she says, just so long as she dances.

"Here's hoping that they put some live wires on the next reception committee and make it worth our while to wear 'Sunday-go-to-meeting' clothes in the happy expectation of a good time," writes "H. C. P."

Council Takes Up Crossing Complaint

The Southern Pacific Company will be compelled to live up to charter requirements in making improvements to its grade crossing over Twenty-third avenue, according to a report to the city council this morning by Commissioner W. H. Edwards of his action in response to complaints by the California Cotton Mills against the condition of the crossing.

A revocable permit under which the company will be allowed to use a portion of Jefferson street, between First and Water streets, for the parking of materials used in the remodeling of their plant was granted by the council today to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

James R. Filgate Sued for Divorce

James R. Filgate, proprietor of a pharmacy, was today made defendant in an action for divorce brought by Mrs. Minnie E. Filgate. Martha Wolff is named in the case. Mrs. Filgate asks a division of the community property, consisting of the drug business, the family home at 4224 Foothill boulevard, household furnishings and an automobile. Custody of a minor child, Robert Virginia Filgate, is also asked by the plaintiff, as well as $100 a month alimony.

City Council Accepts Expenditure Report

The report of the Parr Terminal Company of expenditures made by the company in connection with the completion of an apron wharf on its western waterfront lease was accepted officially by the city council today, with the passage of a resolution of Commissioner W. J. Baccus.

Acceptance of the report, showing $140,000 spent on the wharf, sets up a credit of that amount to the company with the city, obviating the necessity for the immediate payment of the first year's lease of $15,000, which falls due July 1.

Under the company's lease terms, moneys expended on certain improvements are established as a credit pending the expiration of the amount through the collection of dockage, tolls, rents and taxes.

Ice Plant Changes Favored By Council

In answer to numerous complaints from citizens and property-owners in the vicinity against noise and odors from the concern, the city council this morning authorized Harbor Engineer K. S. Heck to enter into negotiations with officials of the Union Ice Company, Twenty-second and Filbert streets, for a reconstruction of the engineering structures of the plant.

GARBAGE RATE INCREASE ASKED

An increase in the rates charged for the collection of garbage from homes was asked of the city council today by the Oakland Scavengers' Association in an application founded on the increased wages paid to the collectors and increased cost of operating the collection wagons.

Supporting their petition, the garbage men were represented on the floor of the council chamber by Deputy District Attorney Earl S. Warren, counsel for the association, who submitted a new ordinance containing the increase asked for.

The old ordinance under which the scavengers have been operating provides a rate of 35 cents for weekly collections, with an additional charge of 10 per cent for excess collections.

The measure amending the old law calls for an increase to 50 cents per month, with an additional charge of $1.50 for excess collections.

The amended ordinance was submitted by the council to the city attorney for a legal opinion and recommendation, and in the meantime the application will be studied by the commissioners in preparation for action when the ordinance is returned.

Forgot Child for Luxury, Is Charge

Testimony was submitted before Superior Judge E. C. Robinson this afternoon by Donahue and Hyman, representing Bernard D. Lichtig in his fight for the possession of his seven-year-old son, that his former wife, Mrs. Birdie L. Lichtig, received $7,000 from the estate of her adopted father, Robert Kramler, who died in New York in January.

Lichtig, who claims the boy's mother made no attempt to see or communicate with the child for six years, said she preferred the luxury of her adopted father's home to a return to California, where the child was living with his sister. Lichtig testified that when he talked with his former wife in New York she told him she did not want the child.

Doheny Is Boomed For Vice-President

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—A new contender for Democratic Vice-Presidential honors entered the field today in the person of E. L. Doheny of Los Angeles, oil operator. Friends of Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, now associated with Doheny enterprises, began an active campaign for Doheny's selection.

Support for Doheny was claimed from California, North Carolina and Oklahoma at the start.

Woman Chosen For City Clerk In Berkeley

MISS EMMA HANN, New City Clerk of Berkeley.

Miss Emma Hann Is Appointed to Position to Succeed A. G. Briggs

BERKELEY, June 29.—The first woman to hold an executive office in Berkeley City Hall was appointed today by the city council with the naming of Miss Emma Hann as city clerk to succeed Alvah G. Briggs.

The appointment of Miss Hann was recommended by Councilman E. T. Harms following the resignation of Briggs. The appointment was unanimously made.

Miss Hann goes into the new position with a salary of $18 a month, an advance of $60 over her wage as deputy. Miss Florence Turner, filing clerk in the city clerk's office, was advanced to the position of deputy clerk at $125 a month.

Briggs' salary was $210.

Hann has been deputy city clerk for ten years. She is a niece of Councilman George C. Harms, commissioner of public works.

Briggs leaves his position to become assistant superintendent of banks of the state under Charles P. Stern.

SHIRRELL RESIGNS.

BERKELEY, June 29.—After more than a year of service, Elmer L. Shirrell, training officer for the Federal Board of Vocational Education at the University of California, has resigned to become director of the Butler School of Commerce in San Francisco. Shirrell was a former instructor in political science at the state university and served during the war with the 91st division.

VARIED COURSE IS URGED UPON HIGH TEACHERS

BERKELEY, June 29.—"Book-learning" should not be forced down the throats of the high school youth of today, Dr. Virgil E. Dickson, psychologist of young Oakland and Berkeley school departments, told several hundred teachers assembled this morning for the opening of the annual convention of the California High School Teachers' Association at the University of California.

"Boys and girls can't all be scholars," declared Dr. Dickson. "There must necessarily be some carpenters, dressmakers, mechanics, shop-girls and the like. Let the boy and girl find out what it is they desire and what they are best fitted for and then give it to them."

The idea of one curriculum for thousands of young people with all kinds of likes and dislikes and all degrees of mental capability was scored by the speaker. Mental examinations for all pupils in the high schools of the state and segregation of students into various classes apart from the "book type" of learning was held forth to the teachers as the big need of the day if education is to be successful in reaching all classes of young people.

MANY THEMES HEARD

Other speakers at this morning's session of the teachers, held in California hall, were Miss Helen Price of University High School, Oakland, who gave to the teachers practical, efficient and economical ways of handling the free text books which this year, for the first time, must be furnished all high school students. Subjects which must be taught the part-time pupil in the schools were discussed by E. A. Lee, professor of vocational education in Indiana University. Lee declared that the last legislature passed to the educational institutions of California the biggest problem confronting them in years when they enacted the law making part-time education compulsory.

R. H. Boren of Oakland, principal of University High School, opened the morning's program, with Dean Walter Morris Hart of the university summer session greeting the teachers. This afternoon session met. Subjects occupied the attention of the teachers. The program for tomorrow's general session follows:

TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

5:30 a. m.—"Standardization of Content of Courses of Study in California High Schools," A. C. Olney, Commissioner of Secondary Schools, California; "Oral English," E. D. Meeting in conjunction with the teachers' tomorrow will be the California Association of English Teachers and the Classical Association of the Pacific States. Program for these two gatherings are:

ENGLISH ASSOCIATION MEET

1:30 p. m.—General topic, "Standardization," opening remarks by chairman, "Standardization—How Far Possible or Desirable," Miss Edith Macdonald, "Advanced Minimum Essentials in Composition in California High Schools," Miss Elizabeth Wood, Hollywood High School, Los Angeles, member of the State Committee on English; "Suggestions for Standardizing the Teaching of Literature," Miss Emma J. ## 75,000 Babies Are Sacrificed, Is Claim

BERKELEY, June 29.—That 75,000 babies under one year of age "sacrificed" needlessly every year in the United States, was the declaration of Mrs. Max West of the United States Department of Labor yesterday in a lecture to summer students at the University of California.

Mrs. West declared that the infant mortality total in this country reached 150,000 every year and that half the number could have been saved by care and education. England, Mrs. West says, is leading the world in saving the lives of its infant population.

GRIP AND NEURASTHENIA

There is a form of neurasthenia that follows the grip. Doctors call it "post-grip" neurasthenia. One of the foremost medical authorities of New York City in a lecture in the International clinics, said: "Broadly speaking, every victim of the grip will suffer from post-grip neurasthenia also. Lowering of nervous tone with increased irritability is the most striking effect of the disease, in part of mind and body, disturbed, fitful sleep and vague pains in the head and elsewhere. The treatment calls for rest and a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a non-alcoholic tonic, are particularly suited for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves after an attack of the grip. The rich, red blood expels the lingering germs from the system and transforms despondent grip victims into cheerful, healthy, happy men and women.

If you have had the grip get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now from the nearest drug store or they will be sent, postpaid, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.

On request we will send you a free pamphlet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," which contains a chapter on neurasthenia.—Advertisement.

Summer Beauty Hint

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of cantrox (which you can get at any drugist's), in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling effect. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a stiffness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After cantrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

Berkeley Gardens Afford Pretty Wedding Setting

The picturesque gardens of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Williams, 2000 of Laurel street, Berkeley, afforded a beautiful background at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Kenneth Ross, and James McVicar Mills Jr. One hundred guests were seated about the terrace for the event. The service was read by Rev. Trelease. After an informal reception and buffet supper, dancing was the chief diversion for the guests.

Miss Ross was married in a handsome white gown of white satin and lace, and wore a short wedding veil worn in Juliet cap effect at the coiffure, and reaching to the full length of the skirt. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, lilies of the valley and roses.

Miss Katherine Armstrong, who returned from New York where she has been a student of the finer arts, was her sister's maid of honor and wore a bouffant rock of pale pink organdy with which she carried an armsprayed pink bridesmaid roses and maid-of-honor fern.

The sixtieth of dainty bridesmaids wore gowns in the varied pastel shades of organdy. They were the Misses Marian and Margaret Mills, Kathryn, Anne Shattuck, Florence Cole, Elton Hite and Bernice Higgins. All carried smart bouquets of sweet peas in hues to harmonize with their frocks.

Frederick Shanks was best man for Mr. Mills. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Major and Mrs. Frederick T. Robinson, Mrs. Frank Parsons, Moulton, Mrs. J. Shields of Sacramento, Mrs. Freeman of Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Cadman, and Joseph Webb, Arch Davison and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross are to make their home in Hamilton City after July 15. The bride recently returned from New York City, where she was a student at the New York School of Fine Arts.

James Mills is a graduate of the State University and member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity. He is a son of James McVicar Mills, rector at the University of California, and Mrs. Mills.

The Misses Isabel and Margaret Paye, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. Paye of Claremont, have returned from the east where both were students at Wellesley College. They will visit in California until the opening of the fall semester.

HOLMES-SPERRY WEDDING THURSDAY

The marriage of Mrs. Elsie Harnden Holmes and Austin Sperry of Berkeley is to take place Thursday at the home of the bride on College avenue with only the immediate members of the two families as guests at the ceremony. Rev. C. C. Dutton of San Francisco is to read the marriage ritual, after which Sperry and his bride will leave on their wedding trip. Mrs. Holmes is a daughter of Mrs. Isabelle Harnden of Berkeley but who has resided in Spain for the past few years. A new home awaits the bridal couple upon their return to the college city.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing are to summer at Del Monte and will have with them Mr. and Mrs. George W. Baker Jr. and their little son, for a period of several weeks.

BETHROTHAL TOLD AT EVENING AFFAIR

A pleasant surprise was given to their friends when the announcement of Miss Emily Greenwood's engagement to Mendel Friedman was made known at a given in the home of Mrs. Len McCallen, whose marriage to Jack Stettin of Vanajo is to take place the early part of next year. People dolls in bridal array graced the center of the table. The place cards were of kowpies carrying parasols upon which was inscribed the names of Miss Greenwood and Friedman. Among the guests were the Misses Emily Greenwood, Una McClellan, Gladys Clancy, Lena Ferreira, Nettie Friedman, Ruth Moody, Beulah Crookham, Lillian Jennings, Mesdames A. A. Light, sister of the groom-elect, T. Cottrell, and T. E. Hudson of San Francisco.

In honor of her little daughter Marjorie's birthday Mrs. Samuel Barbour of Canada will entertain tomorrow afternoon.

George J. Appel, an Oakland business man, and Miss Mary Emma Rust, also of Oakland, were married at the country home of Dr. de Needham, at Los Altos, Saturday night. The Rev. M. M. Kilpatrick, of San Jose, performed the ceremony. The couple have gone for a two months' trip to Alaska, and will then return to their home in Oakland.

MUSICAL TEA IN PITTSBURGH

Mrs. O. R. Rutherford entertained a number of friends Saturday at a musical and tea. It was an informal affair, at which the hostess presented a score or more of her pupils in recital. Miss Katherine Armstrong was hostess at an informal luncheon this afternoon for members of one of the smaller clubs at her home in Oakland avenue. It is the last meeting before fall.

GENERAL GORGAS RALLIES. LONDON, June 29.—The condition of Major-General Gorgas, former Surgeon-General of the United States Army, grew somewhat worse suddenly, but later he was reported to be resting slightly easier. While there have been no complications, his condition is considered extremely critical.

NEGLECT IS CHARGED.

On her testimony that Harry M. Circle, traveling salesman for a local grocery concern, rebuffed any show of affection from her, and neglected to provide for her, Mrs. Eleanor L. # The new U.S. Grainless Rubber solid truck tire

THE inventor of the air brake spent years in getting the people who needed it most to accept it.

Motor transportation, developing so much faster than the railroads ever developed, has set the truck owner thinking in advance of progress.

When the United States Rubber Company announced the creation of a solid truck tire that ended splitting and base separation, it found the truck owners of the country ready for it.

Their interest in better tires is the interest of a sick man in health.

The new U. S. Grainless Rubber Tire cannot split.

Cut it and the cut stops where it starts.

It wears down uniformly throughout the life of the tire.

Working always towards better tires, the United States Rubber Company overcame base separation by effecting a chemical union between the steel and the rubber—the first time such a thing had ever been done.

Just as the first time any radical change was ever made in passenger car tire designing was when the United States Rubber Company introduced the straight side automobile tire.

It is not enough to create better tires. They must be accompanied by better tire service.

The U. S. Solid Truck Tire dealers were selected for what they know about tires—how well they are able to serve the user—and not for any particular cleverness in sales talk.

Go to them, put your truck tire problem in their hands, get their advice about the type of tire best able to meet your own trucking conditions.

As representatives of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world, they are in constant touch with the latest tire developments.

HOT WATER—

More Necessary in Summer Than in Winter

Summer brings no lessening demand for HOT WATER.

It is then that an abundant supply is even more necessary because of the many articles of light wearing apparel that enter into the family wash.

Summer comfort requires many fresh, cool changes of clothing. The children's dresses and washable suits must be kept fresh and clean in spite of the wonderful opportunities to get them dirty playing out-of-doors.

Then there are the frequent baths that are so delightfully refreshing at the end of the hot days and dusty walks or drives on country roads.

The unfailing source of all the hot water you can use in an INSTANTANEOUS GAS WATER HEATER. It is not expensive to operate because gas is consumed only when hot water is being drawn.

You start on a stroll of a summer afternoon from any of the hotels or chalets in the Canadian Pacific Rockies—and ten minutes later you may pick up deer tracks.

Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week, low-intensity, supervised walking program on the physical and psychological health of sedentary, middle-aged women. The study was a randomized, controlled trial. The subjects were 40 sedentary, middle-aged women who were randomly assigned to either a supervised walking program or a control group. The walking program consisted of 12 weeks of supervised walking, 3 times per week, for 30 minutes per session. The control group consisted of 20 women who did not participate in the walking program. The subjects were assessed at baseline and at 12 weeks. The walking program had a significant positive effect on the physical and psychological health of the subjects. The walking program significantly improved the subjects' physical health, as measured by the 6-minute walk test, and their psychological health, as measured by the Beck Depression Inventory and the State-Trait Anxiety Inventory. The walking program also had a significant positive effect on the subjects' quality of life, as measured by the SF-36. The walking program was well tolerated and had no adverse effects. The results of this study suggest that a supervised walking program can be an effective intervention for improving the physical and psychological health of sedentary, middle-aged women.

JUDGE HARRIS
RULES RAISE IN TAX RATE LEGAL

Alameda school teachers will get their raise in pay and the tax rate if that city will be $1.65, as fixed by the city council, by virtue of a decision rendered by Judge T. W. Harris in the superior court here.

School teachers of Alameda, by suit asking for a writ of review in fixing the rate at $1.65, contending that the tax rate could not be more than $1 several weeks ago. Judge Harris has had the case under consideration for some time and his morning rendered his decision in favor of the council's action.

Harris brought the suit to determine the legality of the council's action in order that there might be no question later on when the collection of the assessment was made.

Previously Harris asked for an injunction against the council but was informed by Judge Harris that this was not the proper procedure.

ALAMEDA, June 29.—The decision by Judge Harris that the Alameda City Council has the right to increase the tax rate in view of the lessened purchasing value of a dollar, has brought expressions of satisfaction from many local officials.

City Attorney W. J. Leach, City Manager C. E. Hewes and C. J. DuFour, superintendent of schools, are among those who have long argued that the court had such right. The school department has been the hardest hit of all the city's departments by the wholesale resignations of employees, due to more lucrative offers on the outside.

Told to Get Out, Is Man's Divorce Plaintiff

After being told by Mrs. Leah M. Kurch that she would rather be dead than live with him, that he couldn't make living for a dog, and that he was a "bone head," Burton J. Wurch decided that he was not wanted, and he obeyed her command to "get out" on November 15, he sets forth in a complaint for divorce filed today.

Wurch declares further that his wife tore up their wedding certificate when he admonished her of the evils in gambling when she was forming a racing pool. Anything that he might have been snoring, Wurch says, she woke him up on one occasion and told him to go out and sleep with the dog.

Building Program Includes
Grant School Abandonment

Important progress in the development of the approaching building program of the Oakland public schools was made last evening at a meeting of the Board of Education with the adoption of recommendations approved by the joint building committee and board expenditures.

The program approved by the board includes the abandonment of the present Grant school and the erection in its place of two entirely new elementary schools to serve the same territory, one to be built east of Broadway and the other west of Broadway. This will be done through the sale of the present Grant school site and buildings, at a valuation to be fixed by a committee of appraisers to be named immediately.

PRESENT SITE CRITICIZED.

In explanation of the abandonment of the present Grant school, Campbell, chief of construction, explained to the directors last night that the present site endangers the lives of pupils by causing many of them to cross Broadway, one of the busiest thoroughfares in the city, and that the street is so noisy that the school site has become impossible and school teachers have broken down under the strain of working under the noise and tension.

Another important step provided in the joint committee's recommendations calls for the combining of the proposed new University high school with the new Santa Fe Junior high school, the two to be joined in one new building at Fifty-eighth

SCHOOL BUDGET
GIVES TEACHER
$420 INCREASE

Carrying a total of $3,672,626.62, estimated to be required for all school purposes for the coming year, the budget of the school department for the fiscal year 1920-21 was submitted to the Board of Education at a meeting last evening that was adjourned until Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of taking final action on the budget.

The most important item of increase over the budget of the present year is that of $55,740 to provide the increase of $420 in the salary of each teacher, asked for by the instructors of the schools in their present campaign for a professional wage. According to Secretary Lloyd D. Barzee, the budget calls for an increase of approximately $671,626.62 over that of last year.

The funds to be derived under the new budget estimate are divided as follows among the different school divisions: "Elementary schools, $2,129,262.33; high schools, $1,338,261.37; kindergartens, $153,922.92." In further completion of the organization of the construction department, the Board approved the appointment of Horace M. Woolley Jr., as a structural engineering draftsman in the department, and the appointment of David Olsen to succeed Irving Morrow, resigned, as draftsman. Both positions are salaried at $300 a month.

In a resume accompanying the budget, the following items are listed as requirements necessitating an increase in the budget estimates: (1) Estimated growth in enrollment requiring 105 additional teachers; (2) an increased price of staple supplies and equipment amounting to 67 percent in one year and 177 percent over a period of three years; (3) the requirements of two new state laws providing for free high school textbooks and for part-time continuation courses, the total amount of increase because of these two new measures being $125,000; (4) essential repairs and improvements in the present school plants made imperative because of the fact that the improvements have practically lapsed for two years; (5) the salary increases of $420 per teacher, aggregating $588,740.

Woman Hangs Self
Accidentally, Verdict

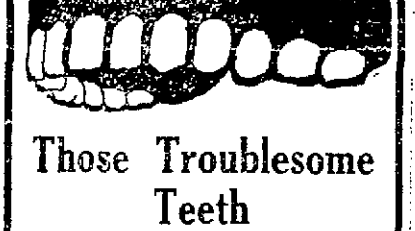

A verdict that death was due to asphyxiation caused by accidental hanging was returned in the case of Mrs. May Heeb, whose lifeless body was found in the basement of her home at 1125 East S. eventeenth street. According to the testimony of her husband, F. A. Heeb, upon which the verdict was based, the woman was suffering from an affliction of the throat and in fixing the throat and in fixing the noose about her neck she did so more or less unconsciously. He testified he believed she had fainted while the noose was around her neck and was hanged.

DANIELS TELLS OF GREAT NAVY
PLANS FOR BAY

Construction of the big naval base on San Francisco bay, to cost millions of dollars, will be begun as soon as the borings have been completed and the congressional committee has decided between the Alameda and Hunters' Point proposed sites, Secretary Josephus Daniels of the navy department declared today in an interview at the Democratic national convention in San Francisco.

The amount of money to be spent on the site must be decided by Congress, the secretary declared. Secretary Daniels will not inspect either proposed site at this time.

"I am having borings taken and will have a full and complete report setting forth the merits of both the Alameda and Hunters' Point sites before me before the congressional committee comes West to inspect the proposed locations," declared Daniels.

The Helm commission at one time reported the Alameda site favorably, but the matter now has to be gone into again more thoroughly and I cannot say what the final decision will be.

"The cost of a big naval base on San Francisco bay will run into millions. Of course you understand that all this money will not be expended at one time and I cannot say what the initial appropriation will be. After the reports of all the engineers have been compiled and the committee has rendered its decision, work on the base will begin at once. From that time forward probably millions of dollars each year will be expended on the naval base here until a great seat for the Pacific fleet has been constructed."

"Personally I am not going to inspect either of the proposed sites. I have been over both of them and see no reason for duplicating the work. I plan to stay here during the convention and probably a few days thereafter."

Charges Are Denied
By Two Accused Men

Richard Hoppe, charged with passing a fictitious check for $375 upon the Central National Bank, today pleaded not guilty to the charge and his trial was set for July 23. The check in question was drawn on the Anglo-California Trust Company and signed by Charles Blum, said to be a fictitious person.

Joe Vargas today pleaded not guilty to a statutory offense against a girl aged 17 and his trial was set for August 11.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED.

Refusing John F. Kiernan a decree of annulment, Judge Dudley Kinsell has granted him a divorce on his testimony that Mrs. Irene Kiernan had married him in Oakland on October 20, 1908, when she was 17 years of age so she would be free from the control of her parents and could live a dissolute life. Kiernan said he had left his wife directly after their marriage when he learned that such was the case.

BANDIT SHOT BY
S. P. PASSENGER
IS SOUGHT HERE

Bloodstains were found today on the Southern Pacific railway track two miles west of Sacramento, where a bandit was shot by Albert Rodell of Cleveland after he had robbed 25 passengers on the eastbound Atlantic Express and had fired on Conductor Thomas W. Muldowney of Oakland.

Muldowney, while under fire from the robber's revolver, locked the connecting doors to prevent the robber from entering other Pullmans ahead. The bandit, unable to proceed, leaped from the train. Just as he lifted the step inclosure of the Pullman and was leaving the train Rodell fired five times. At least one of the bullets took effect, as the man was heard to cry out.

Muldowney lives at 1633 Fourteenth street with his mother and brother, Ben Muldowney, an Oakland fireman. He has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific for 20 years.

Southern Pacific special agents, deputy sheriffs and the police are combing Oakland, Sacramento and other cities in a search for the man. All hospitals are being watched.

Reports from Sacramento indicate that Sheriff Ellis Jones and his posse have met with no success in their search.

The robber boarded the train at Davis by climbing to the platform of the observation car. He wore a Panama hat and was well dressed. At the point of his revolver he compelled George Dickson, brakeman, to search passengers and place money and jewelry in his coat. He robbed the passengers in the observation car and entered the Pullman ahead when Conductor Muldowney halted his further progress by closing the forward door. The robber opened fire on the conductor, who, amid a hail of bullets, locked the door. Rodell fired at close range. The robber was seen to topple from the platform.

PASTOR OPPOSED
FOR MARRYING
DOUG. AND MARY

BUFFALO June 29.—The slate submitted to the Northern Baptists convention by the nominating committee and headed by Ernest I. Tustin of Philadelphia was elected, Rev. J. W. Brougher Los Angeles, was elected as one of the thirteen members of the executive committee. Opposition to Brougher developed because of his attitude on the question of marriage and divorce. He performed the marriage ceremony for Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford and on account of this act and subsequent utterances on the subject a certain element sought to replace him on the committee slate by nominating the Rev. James A. Francis, also of Los Angeles. The vote stood: Brougher, 609; Francis, 422. The convention ended today.

Love Fades After Wedding, Says Wife

Married on Friday the thirteenth, in 1917, the hoodoo generally attributed to this day held good in the domestic life of Lillian V. Tennant, wife of J. Ellis Tennant, according to a complaint filed by Judge R. S. Tappan in which the wife asks for divorce with $100 a month alimony.

According to the complaint, Tennant told his wife before their marriage that "she was the sweetest girl on earth," but that since the hoodoo wedding day he has addressed remarks toward her of a far different character.

The robber boarded the train at Davis by climbing to the platform of the observation car. He wore a Panama hat and was well dressed. At the point of his revolver he compelled George Dickson, brakeman, to search passengers and place money and jewelry in his coat. He robbed the passengers in the observation car and entered the Pullman ahead when Conductor Muldowney halted his further progress by closing the forward door. The robber opened fire on the conductor, who, amid a hail of bullets, locked the door. Rodell fired at close range. The robber was seen to topple from the platform.

FRISKY 'PHONE
BURGLAR SUSPECT
HELD FOR TRIAL

The frolicsome telephone burglar who for several days exasperated the police and threw society matrons into hysterics by calling them on the telephone and announcing that he was a burglar, has lost his erstwhile gaiety.

Confronted by what the police allege is proof of his guilt, Clifford T. Tus, dubbed the "telephone burglar," is in the city prison facing a burglary charge.

Last night the jewels which were found on Titus by Inspector William Kyle were identified as those which were stolen from the home of Mrs. Mary McDuffy, 250 Tunnel Road, Berkeley, on June 16.

"A strange man handed me the package on the street and then ran away," said Titus last night when asked to explain his possession of the jewelry, the police say.

Titus is believed by the police to be the same burglar who made a practice of telephoning to his victims after he had robbed their homes and criticizing the quality of the loot.
